

Out of sight Out of mind

Why Netangel?

The protection of children and the safeguarding of their well-being is becoming increasingly important in today's digital age.

We, at Netangel, are content creators who support parents and guardians with 'How to' setup parental controls on apps, games and social media.

We, at Netangel, believe that unregulated social media is a significant contributor to the rise in online child sexual abuse. Social media companies are failing to prevent their sites from being used to plan, commit, and share child abuse and other online harms.

Shockingly, over 30,000 crimes involving the sharing and possession of indecent images of children were reported between 2021 and 2022, according to data obtained through freedom of information requests made to UK police forces (Source NSPCC). The Internet Watch Foundation (IWF) has also reported a staggering 1,058% increase since 2019 in the number of web pages displaying sexual abuse images and videos of children aged 7-10, who have been recorded via internet-connected devices, often by online predators.

In response to this growing problem, Netangel has launched a video tutorial series aimed at empowering parents to set up effective parental controls on popular apps, game consoles, and smart devices. Our tutorials have been designed by parents for parents, with a focus on catering to individuals with varying levels of experience and confidence. We have also included an auto-translate feature for non-English speaking parents.

Parents need not shy away from their children's digital world, as we believe they can play an essential role in keeping them safe. By applying the same parenting skills used offline, such as setting boundaries and discussing sensitive topics, parents can help their children recognise good and bad online behaviour. Our passion is to support parents & guardians who wish to look after their children's digital well-being along with keeping children safe online.

To extend our reach, we have partnered with Better Together, offering a range of services, from parental control guides to workshops and personalised parental coaching. Our collaboration demonstrates our commitment to providing practical solutions accessible to anyone, regardless of age or experience.

By staying in control of technology, we can ensure that our children are safe online, not just now, but for future generations as well. If you are interested in setting up your parental controls, learning more about our mission and/or supporting our community, please visit our YouTube channel @netangel-Online-Safety or website at www.netangel.org.

Why Netangel?

Nintendo Switch parental controls

Online safety, practical tips

GTA - What Parents need to know

Fortnite parental controls

Out of sight, out of mind